ZORA NEALE HURSTON

January 7, 1891 - January 28, 1960) was an influential author of African-American literature, anthropologist, and filmmaker, who portrayed racial struggles in the early-20th-century American South.