Preliminary Remarks

The present study comprises a survey of 801-821 Lincoln Road, a contributing historic property located in the Miami Beach Architectural District. It was prepared for Terranova Corporation in anticipation of a restoration and addition Project designed by Shulman + Associates.

The proposed project comprises the restoration/reconstruction of historic facades, and a new three-story structure stretching from Meridian Avenue to Lincoln Lane North. The restoration work will reconstruct the original appearance of the building when it was completed in 1929 as the Lincoln Metropolitan Salon (and other shops). The restoration includes the original taller windows and decorative stone work. The new structure will step back from Meridian Avenue on the second floor, and from Lincoln Lane at the third floor. It includes substantial glass walls toward the north.

This study presents the building historically, based on available documentation and site verification. It includes historical imagery and the building card. A photo survey of the current condition is also included.

Historical Outline

Contextual History:

This landmark Art Deco-style commercial building occupies the northwest corner of Lincoln Road and Meridian Avenue in Miami Beach, on the east half of Lot 1 of Block 36 in the Golf Course (Amended) Subdivision of Miami Beach. This subdivision was platted by Carl Fisher's Alton Beach Realty Company in April 1920, although Fisher had laid out and named Lincoln Road itself several years earlier as the centerpiece of his development of Miami Beach.

By the mid-1920s Lincoln Road was a hub of social activity, with an indoor tennis court, the Community Church, the Community Theater, the Lincoln Hotel, high-end shops, and several luxury automobile showrooms. These included a Packard showroom built in 1928 as part of the original Sterling Building, and a Cadillac showroom built in 1929 at the corner of Pennsylvania Avenue. To these was added the subject building, designed by architect Russell Pancoast in 1929, with its corner storefront occupied by the Dade Motor Sales Company, headed by S.A. Ryan.¹ Fortuitously located on Lincoln Road, already known as "the Fifth Avenue of the South," it was a showroom for Lincoln automobiles.

The Lincoln Motors Company had been founded by Henry and Wilfred Leland and was known for its high quality standards, producing "the finest car in motordom." At the same time, Henry Ford was known as "the master manufacturer in quantity production," producing "the best low-priced car." In February 1922, Ford took over the struggling Lincoln Company, with the stated intention that Leland's mechanical excellence should not be lost, and also adding a luxury product to the Ford line. Subsequently, Ford stepped up its marketing and stated that "the scope of the distributors will be enlarged by the appointment of dealers in the smaller cities."² No doubt the Lincoln Road showroom was part of that effort. It had its grand opening on January 2, 1930, in the wake of the stock market crash.

Specific History:

The Building Permit Card indicates that the structure originally cost $85,000.00 and consisted of several storefronts in addition to the showroom. It extended 150' from 801 to 821 Lincoln Road, and 135' along Meridian Avenue. Pancoast's original plans of this building were not found in the Miami Beach Building Department, and only partial original plans are extant.

Four photographs of the building from circa 1930 were found in the Matlack archive at HistoryMiami (#190-10, 191-10, 197-10, and 200-10). Two show the exterior, which differs from the building's current appearance. The entrance to the auto showroom is at the corner, which is rounded and has a stepped-up parapet above the word "Lincoln" (which had a double meaning). At ground level, plate-glass windows line both the east and south elevations; above them is a line of transom windows topped by a corresponding row of decorative bas-relief panels, probably of cast stone, that sweep around the corner.

On Meridian Avenue, north of the showroom, two double-height vertical window panels are seen, which still survive, followed by a double driveway entrance to what was originally a mechanical garage: "5000 square feet of space to take care of the service requirements of Miami Beach Lincoln owners." ³ A rooftop wall running east-to-west between the showroom and the garage still survives.

The additional storefronts facing Lincoln Road to the west of the showroom are seen in a rendering in the October 6, 1929 Miami Herald, as well as the photographs. These show a pointed archway with grillwork; an adjoining storefront with more bas-relief panels over transom windows; and a clay barrel-tile roof above a square storefront with cornice and three rounded storefronts. The 1931 Polk's City Directory lists the Lincoln Rug Galleries at 811-815 Lincoln Road, adjoining Dade Motor Sales, as another tenant in the Lincoln-Meridian Building. In 1932, a shoe store, gift shop and luggage store occupied 817, 819, and 821 Lincoln Road.

Two of the Matlack photographs show interior views of the automobile showroom; "Lincoln Galleries" and "Dade Motor Sales Co." are written on the front window and door, positively identifying the location. The intricate wooden coffered ceiling is clearly shown, which still survives intact. The floor was various-sized clay tile, and there were two lamps of frosted-glass panels suspended from the ceiling. On the north wall of the showroom, a stairway on the left side led up to mezzanine office space. To the right of the stair were three small window openings and a balconet. The stair landing and the balconet both have decorative metal railings and are supported by brackets, and all five openings have a shallow ziggurat contour at the top. At the far ends are two decoratively perforated panels opening into the office space behind. At floor level, a built-in display panel with geometric decoration occupies the space beneath the window openings. Car parts are displayed here, probably for the education of customers. An engine block is also seen mounted on the showroom floor.

Later Alterations:

In 1938, Dade Motor Sales was replaced by the Isaac Miller shoe store, and the building underwent a transformation. The Building Card documents a small "remodeling" in November 1938, and the addition of a "balcony in rear of store" in June 1939; then a $16,000.00 remodeling designed by the original architect, Russell Pancoast, occurred over the summer of 1939.

Only one sheet of plans, split into two parts, was found for this project, on Microfilm #12661. It is not very legible and shows only the floor plan. A photograph of this new storefront, however, appears in the February 24, 1941, Life magazine article on Lincoln Road (p.21). The exterior was faced in white marble, with delicate convex vertical facets wrapping around the rounded corner. "I. Miller Beautiful Shoes" was the signage above the scalloped door, which was flanked by two large, round display windows. The storefronts along Lincoln Road had knee-walls, but otherwise are obscured by large awnings.

City directories document that there were additional storefronts at 1650 through 1658 Meridian Avenue, in what had been the original garage, from 1942 to 1959. In 1960, architect Melvin Grossman designed a $10,000.00 addition on the north side of the building (1660 Meridian Avenue) that was completed in 1962, according to the Permit Card. It measured 15 by 100 feet, running along North Lincoln Lane. The Camelot jewelry store is listed here until 1974. In approximately 1983 the Meridian Avenue stores were converted to restaurant use, and extensively remodeled in 1988. In recent years this was well-known as David's Café II. In 2012 David's was replaced by the Abuela Restaurant.

Subsequent permits issued for 801-821 Lincoln Road include a renovation in 1987, which was probably when the round display windows at the corner were removed; they are absent in a 1990 photograph in the Planning Department database. This photograph shows the corner tenant as an Italian restaurant at that time. This was followed by other restaurant entities: "Noodles of Asia," and "Suva." An interior demolition and buildout for the Ghirardelli chocolate company occurred in 2002. The corner space was remodeled as Dylan's Candy Bar in 2012.

ARCHITECT BIOGRAPHY:

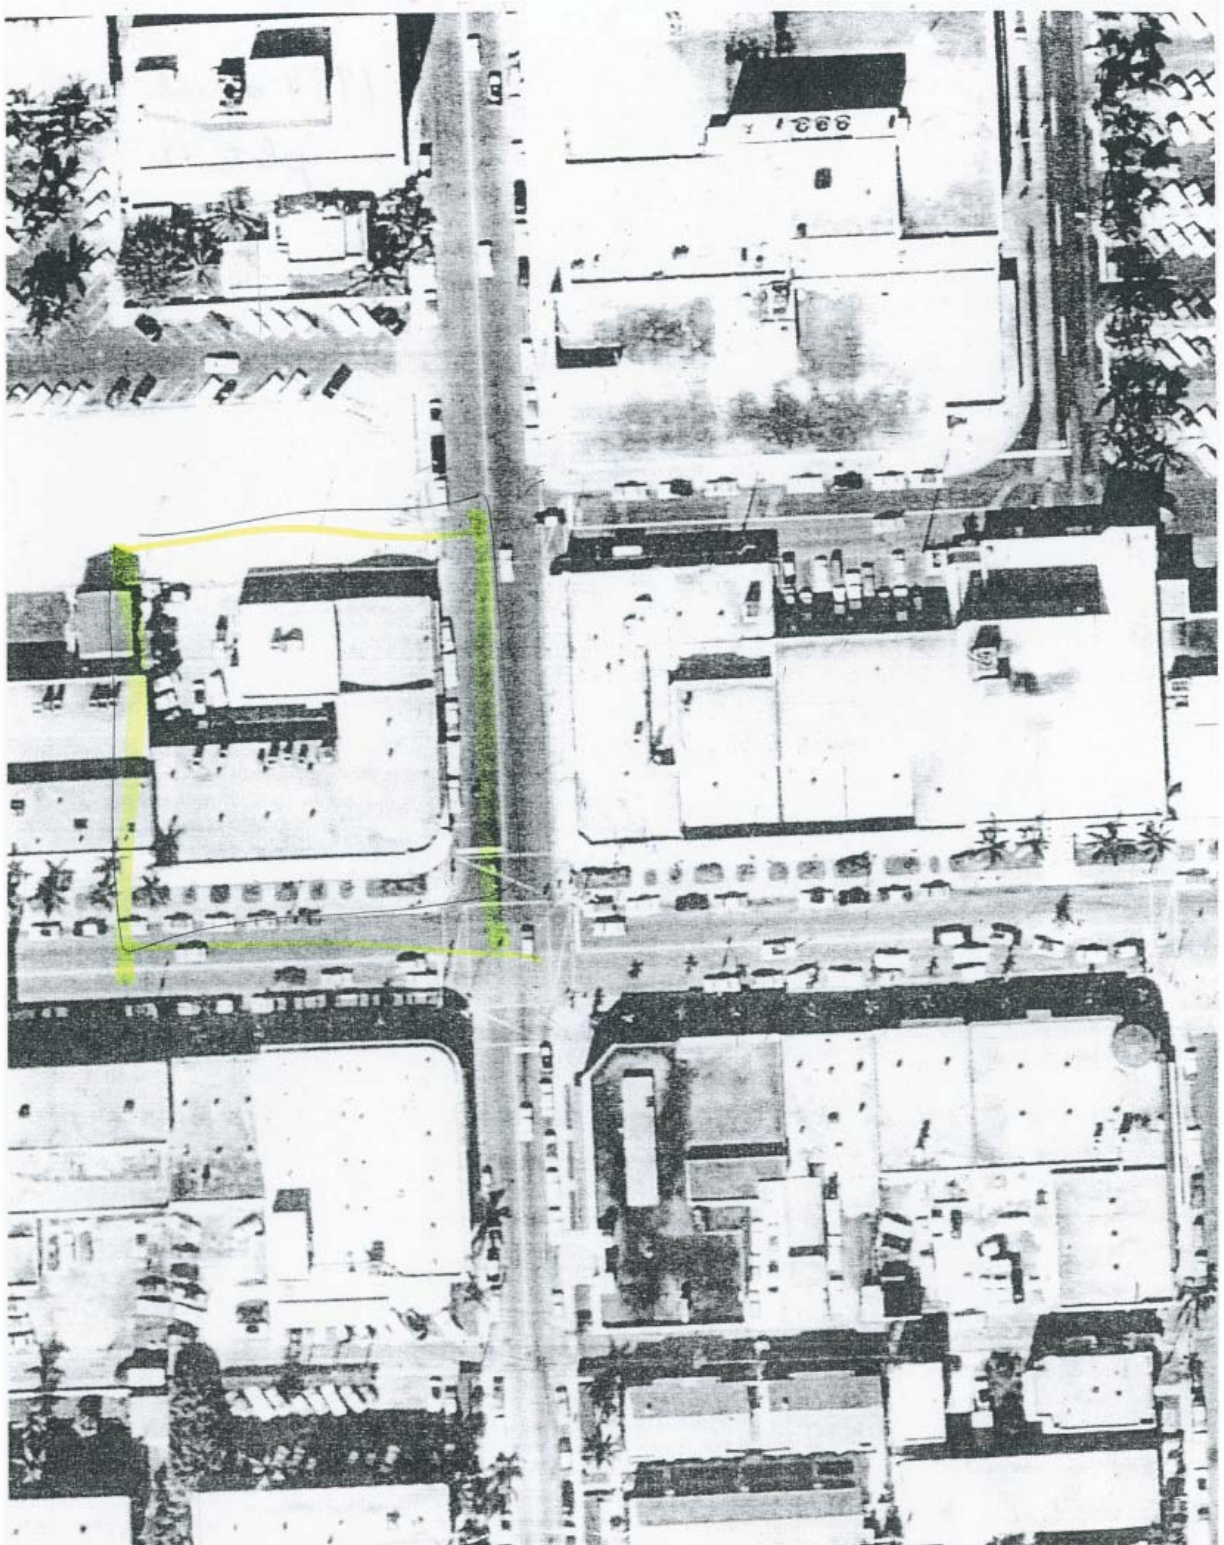

Russell T. Pancoast (1899-1972) was born in Moorestown, New Jersey, but grew up in Miami Beach as the grandson of pioneer John S. Collins and the son of Thomas J. Pancoast, early Miami Beach mayor and founder of the local Chamber of Commerce. Russell Pancoast studied architecture at Cornell, then returned to Miami Beach where he worked from 1925 to about 1955. Here he designed such notable buildings as the Collins Memorial Library (now the east wing of the Bass Museum), the Surf Club, the Miami Beach Woman's Club, and the Mead Building (901 Lincoln Road). His buildings range in style from Mediterranean Revival to Art Deco and Postwar Modern.

MOTOR FIRM BUILDING MIAMI BEACH BRANCH

Construction Begins On Large Display and Service Structure In Lincoln Road.

S. A. Ryan of the Dade Motor Sales Company, Lincoln and Ford dealers, whose general offices and sales and service headquarters are at 400 S. W. Second avenue, Miami, announces the closing of a long-term lease with the Lincoln-Meridian Company, of Miami Beach, for the erection of a Lincoln and Ford display and service building in the fashionable Lincoln road shopping center, Miami Beach, as a branch of the Miami Lincoln and Ford business.

The building will be of very beautiful modernistic design, with ornamental stone and wrought iron treatment in the facade, and one of the outstanding buildings along Lincoln road.

Mr. Ryan, in making the formal announcement yesterday, said the primary object of locating this branch of the Dade Motor Sales Company at Miami Beach is for the purpose of rendering a superior service to that large and important group of Lincoln owners who come to Miami Beach every winter season. This building, designed by Russel T. Pancost, Miami Beach architect, will make it convenient for Miami Beach residents and visitors to examine in a leisurely way during the winter season one of the most important displays of Lincoln automobiles.

The winter salon showing of Lincoln models will present original and exclu- sive body styles which will also be ex- hibited at the New York body salon in the Commodore Hotel in New York in December. In addition to the special salon showing, there will be standard models of the Lincoln emphasizing the latest improvements brought about by the engineering skill of the Ford Motor Company. In conjunction there will also be a special display of the latest deluxe Ford models.

In connection with the elaborate display room, which will be especially embellished and architecturally treated by Mr. Pancoast, creating a beautiful background for the display of Lincoln automobiles, the new building will provide 5,000 square feet of space to take care of the service requirements of Miami Beach Lincoln owners.

Mr. Ryan said he desires to emphasize that both Lincoln and Ford service will be continued in a major way at 400 S. W. Second avenue, Miami, in the large building occupied by the Dade Motor Sales Company, the Miami Beach branch being utilized for auxiliary display and service. He believes that his many friends in the North, as well as the friends and customers of the Dade Motor Sales Company, will be appreciative of the additional facilities provided for their convenience, all of which will conform with the established policy of the Ford Motor Company in providing everywhere convenient and adequate display and service for the Lincoln automobile.

NEW LINCOLN AND FORD STRUCTURE IS ANNOUNCED

This is the architect's drawing of the new Miami Beach branch of the Dade Motor Sales Company, now under construction on Lincoln road at Meridian avenue, as formally announced by S. A. Ryan. The builders are the Lincoln-Meridian Company, who are under contract to complete the structure by December 15. Russell T. Pancoast is the architect. The building will be ornate, in keeping with its location in this exclusive shopping center, and will comprise an elaborate display salon and all modern service facilities.

Kingfish Also Are Plentiful As Day's Catches Are Displayed On Pier.

A catch of eight amberjack ranging in weight from 25 to 35 pounds, 18 kingfish and a small shark was recorded yesterday by Dr. and Mrs. James Morrissey, and Walter Zunkley of Yonkers, N. Y., and featured a fine day of fishing. The Morrisseys and Mr. Zunkley are guests at the Breakers Hotel, Miami Beach. The party fished from Capt. C. H. Fine's yacht, Ambron II.

A number of other fine catches were recorded with kingfish and amberjack playing an important part in the day's activities.

Howard Devise, Bill Browning and Charles Kroger, the three fishermen of Newport, Ky., once again registered an excellent catch. They accounted for 14 kingfish from Capt. Dick Morgan's yacht, Miss Blaise.

Arthur Herbert of Bozadale, N. Y., C. J. Smith, E. M. Lake and Charles E. Birge returned with a fine catch, including a snailfish, a large barracuda, two dolphin, two large amberjack and

LINCOLN SALON DRAWS NUMEROUS VISITORS

Occasion Also Signifies Opening of Dade Motor Sales Company's Branch.

The Lincoln Motor Car salon, previously announced by S. A. Ryan, Dade Motor Sales Company executive, was inaugurated yesterday in the company's new building in Lincoln road at Meridian avenue, Miami Beach. The hundreds of visitors to the salon also were given the opportunity to inspect the new motor sales and service structure, which Mr. Ryan said has been built in order to render a superior type of service to the large number of Lincoln motor car owners who come to Miami Beach every winter season.

Among the new Lincoln body styles exhibited as examples of the fine coachwork of leading body builders are a striking new body type by LeBaron, a coupe sedan on a Lincoln chassis, a LeBaron collapsible cabriolet, a convertible sedan by Dietrich.

Visitors will find in the new Lincoln touring car a studied provision for increased riding space through many innovations that have been incorporated to allow the maximum of room and comfort while on long tours or shorter jaunts. The body is lower and streams from a gravity center with such fluent balance that fleetness becomes its dominant theme.

Curtains which usually conceal auxiliary seats back of the drive have been omitted in the Lincoln touring car. Instead, scooped out places are found for increased leg room. In the floor at the foot of the kneeseat is a depression that also gains greater roominess and comfort for passengers.

Whether the top is up or down, this new body spells trimness and speed, refinement, security and distinction. Shatter-proof glass is used as in all Lincoln motor cars.

Marvelous blocks, accurate to one-quarter of one-millionth of an inch, will be used to explain the precision with which Lincolns are constructed. These Johansson gages, the most precise measuring instruments in the history of the world, played a large part in the standardization of the inch by the United States Bureau of Standards, and the Ford Motor Company built the blocks which the government used. Other sets have been turned out for use all over the world.

Other mechanical displays include a copper-plated chassis, a parts board, a rear axle assembly, an in-take manifold assembly and a crankshaft and pin assembly.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—A 1930 version of the Snyder-Gray trial started here today when Samuel H. Dorr, insurance salesman, was charged in court with the murder of William O'Brien, street car conductor. O'Brien's widow, Genevieve, will be tried later on the same charge.

Mrs. Dorr, said by the state to have been spurned by her husband for Mrs. O'Brien, collapsed after attending the opening session of the trial.

Previously she had kissed her husband hysterically when he was brought into the courtroom.

Selection of a jury was started with the prosecution demanding the death penalty in qualifying veniremen, much in the manner of similar demands made at the Snyder-Gray trial.

A NOTABLE DISPLAY OF DISTINGUISHED MODERN MOTOR CARS
WILL BE PRESENTED AT THE LINCOLN
METROPOLITAN SALON

AT THE SHOWROOM OF
DADE MOTOR SALES COMPANY
LINCOLN ROAD AT MERIDIAN, MIAMI BEACH, FLORIDA
JANUARY 2nd TO 16th

FOR NINE YEARS the Lincoln has been known as one of the finest cars built anywhere in the world. Its name has stood for superb engineering and beauty of appearance. That tradition has been scrupulously maintained. Today the Lincoln is a better, more beautiful automobile than it has ever been.

The purpose of the Lincoln Metropolitan Salon is to bring to this city once a year the latest examples of distinguished custom coachmaking and the most modern developments in automotive engineering. This is your opportunity to see for yourself to what an extraordinary degree the craft of fine automobile making has been brought. The Lincoln appeals most strongly to those discriminating people who appreciate the highest achievements in motor car mechanism and body design.

The cars you will see are representative of the skill of the country's leading custom coachmakers—Jenkins, Willoughby, LeBaron, Bruhn, Dietrich and others. A number of the body types which have recently been added to the Lincoln line are making their first appearance in this city. Others represent the latest refinements made on body types which have everywhere been acclaimed as consummate achievements in the coach-builders' art. In a sense, this is more than a Lincoln exhibit—it is a presentation of the finest work done by the foremost custom coachmakers in the industry.

You will be interested in the mechanical exhibits which give an insight into the Lincoln methods of precision craftsmanship in building fine motor cars. You will see a set of the famous Johanson gages, accurate to four-millionths of an inch, which make possible the delicate precision in machining and adjusting all parts of the Lincoln mechanism. An exhibit of Lincoln parts, finished with the utmost possible precision, will show you the practical results of this painstaking method of production.

You will also see a copper-plated display chassis, a cutaway motor, an aluminum body, a rear axle assembly, and other interesting mechanical exhibits.

The body types displayed will include the Phaeton, Sixpassenger Coupe, Jenkins Berlina, Locke Club Roadster, Willoughby Limousine, Dietrich Convertible Sedan, Willoughby Town Sedan, Standard 7-passenger Sedan, Jenkins Coupe.

TWELVE CYLINDERS POWER THIS NEW CAR OF MANY-SIDED APPEAL

THE first person who purchased a LINCOLN-ZEPHYR was the president of a railroad. A fair cross-section of owners reveals, also, eminent physicians . . . executives who travel much . . . society matrons with children of school age. Their reasons for buying this car are varied and practical. Underlying them all, typical of them all, is this: "It is a new kind of car. It offers a new kind of value!"

It is an unusual idea to place a 12-cylinder engine in a car of medium price. The engine itself is new. Designed by Lincoln, built by Lincoln, it is the culmination of years of research and experiment. It develops 110 horsepower. Because of its exclusive design; because of its great power and flexibility; because it pulls a car low in weight for its size, owners are getting 14 to 18 miles a gallon!

It is a new idea to streamline a car as fully as this car is streamlined. But the graceful, flowing contours simply grow out of the body structure beneath. Steel trusses form a rigid bridge over which steel panels are welded — top, sides, bottom. Six passengers, or one, are gently cradled in the framework, and poised forward of the rear axle. You ride near the center even when in the back seat.

It is a new idea, finally, to provide so much power, size, comfort in a car selling for $1275.

But a conviction of the builder is that engineering experience, precision methods, and vast resources, applied intelligently, can do what otherwise could not be done. This car combines Ford ability to give great value at low cost with the Lincoln tradition to build without regard to cost. It does for the medium-price field what these other cars do for their own fields.

Learn, today, what outstanding value Lincoln has built into a car new in idea, new in appearance, new in performance!
