

Retail Fulfillment Centers

- Create definition of “retail fulfillment center”:

Section 114-1. Definitions.

Convenience store means a retail store with direct access from the street or sidewalk that is designed and stocked to sell a mixture of goods such as non-prescription medications, beverages, magazines, food (packaged and/or prepared), school/office supplies, cosmetics, and other household supplies. A store that markets itself as a "pharmacy store" or "pharmacy" in addition to selling the goods described above, but that does not provide pharmacy services, including the dispensing of medicinal drugs by a pharmacist, shall be considered a convenience store and not a pharmacy or pharmacy store.

Neighborhood fulfillment center shall mean a retail establishment where clients collect goods that are sold off-site, such as with an internet retailer. Additionally, the establishment provides a hub where goods can be collected and delivered to clients' homes or places of business by delivery persons that do not use cars, vans, or trucks. Such facilities are limited to 35,000 square feet.

Retail fulfillment center shall mean a retail establishment where goods are primarily sold online and delivered directly to a person's home or place of business. Such establishment must also have an active storefront, along all sidewalk facing portions of the building, that is open to the general public at least eight hours per day. The active storefront must have a minimum depth of 10' and a minimum area of 500 square feet. Retail fulfillment centers shall be limited to no more than 7,000 square feet. Goods sold by a retail fulfillment center may include goods similar to those that are sold in a convenience store.
