Dear Preservationists::

In terms of the relationship between mind and body, there is nothing uglier conceived lately than the plan to destroy the heart and soul of the South Flamingo Park neighborhood, once called "Seventh Heaven" because it was a crack-hood below 7th Street, but is now larger and is the habitat of many decent working class families the mayor and developers would rather remove for their version of progress.

Please review this updated article on the callous intention of the mayor and his allies to destroy something even more important than an archeological treasure. The posting includes a recent letter to Senora Rosen-Gonzales and the mayor.
