CLIMATE ATTRACTS ARCHITECT TO AREA

Victor H. Nellenbogen Gave Up Established Professional Business To Come Here

Victor H. Nellenbogen, architect, 925 Lincoln road, Miami Beach, came to Metropolitan Miami in 1920 to recuperate from an illness contracted during military service. He found the climate here so invigorating and healthful that he relinquished his established professional business in the North and started as an "unknown" in his new home.

Prior to coming here he had been for many years in the architectural department of the Canadian Pacific Hotel system, designing such magnificent resorts as those of Banff Springs, Vancouver Hotel and others. He also had connections with the office of Thomas Lamb, widely-known theater architect of New York.

During the first five years of Miami residence, Mr. Nellenbogen was associated with Martin L. Hampton, Miami Beach architect, as supervisor of construction, and supervised the building of the Granada apartments in Miami, the Breakers Casino, Palm Beach; the Davis Island project in Tampa, and the Pancoast Hotel, Miami Beach.

He opened his own offices in 1926 in the Exchange building, where plans were drawn for the unique Kellogg Battle Creek in Florida building in Miami Springs. The contract for this structure was let by the late Glenn H. Curtiss, and the adobe type of architecture which characterizes this building and other groups in Miami Springs was a particular hobby of Mr. Curtiss, who believed this type of architecture was adaptable to this climate.

Among recently constructed hotels designed by the architect are the Bowman Hotel, Twenty-third street, west of Collins avenue, Miami Beach, and the Alamac Hotel, Miami Beach. Mr. Nellenbogen also designed the residence of Harry R. Howell, a bay-front house with grounds extending from Brickell avenue. On the east is a garden terraced to the water edge.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Sayre Wheeler, Miami Springs, is another showplace created by the architect. He also designed the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Connally of Pittsburgh, Pa., located at Forty-sixth street and Pine Tree drive, Miami Beach, and that of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Olsen of Chicago, located at 2570 Flamingo drive, Miami Beach.

The office of Mr. Nellenbogen was established at Miami Beach nine years ago.

BEAUTY SALON ONE OF FINEST

Shop In Miami Said Largest South of Washington

Chez Marie Beauty Shop, Inc., opened the largest salon south of Washington in the Seybold building, 33-39 E. Flagler street, in 1932. The firm utilizes the entire E. Flagler street front on the second floor of the building, with staircase and elevator service from the building arcade.

Equipment and decorations are of the latest style and years ahead of the mode. It has been characteristic of the shop to be the first in their field, according to E. J. C. Perkins, sr., president, in style of hairdress and equipment. It was the first shop to use strictly modernistic design when it was founded in 1928 by Mr. Perkins.

The personnel of the corporation when founded, in addition to E. J. C. Perkins, was Mrs. M. T. Perkins, vice president, and Mrs. E. J. C. Perkins, secretary and treasurer. The only change in the firm since that date is that of E. J. C. Perkins, jr., being elected vice president, replacing Mrs. M. T. Perkins, following her death some time ago, and the addition of James D. Reid as assistant manager. Chez Marie uses the fastest drying

REPAIR SHOP GROWS TO SPECIALTY PLANT

Small Business Developed In Eight Years To Making Appliances

Development of a small shoe repair shop to a business of manufacturing beach and cabana footwear, sport, novelty and orthopedic shoes and corrective foot appliances in eight years is the record of accomplishment of the Beach Shoe Repair Shop at 518 Collins avenue, Miami Beach. John Adamus and son are the proprietors.

Mr. Adamus opened his business in a small store room 'n 1927 and at that time most of the work was that of rebuilding shoes. The owners accumulated modern machinery and in 1932 took over another store room in addition to the original one.

The shop now is one of the most complete shoe repairing plants in the South. Corrective foot appliances manufactured include arch supports and metatarsal pads. There also is a stock of shoe polishes, cleaners, dyes, saddle soaps and other appliances for the care of shoes and leather.

John Adamus, who learned his trade in Austria, supervises all designing, the cutting of uppers and the manufacture of all shoes and sandals. He spent 12 years in the United States Shoe factory where he worked on shoes from the cutting room to packing. He attended the Orthopedic Clinic, Cracow, Poland, studying foot anatomy for six months; and completed a 12-month course in the same subject in the American School of Practipedics in Chicago, Ill.

The shop is open during the entire year and each summer, Mr. Adamus says, there is a greater increase in mail orders for sandals and sport shoes from all sections of the United States.

RECORDS ARE SET BY TACKLE STORE

Sells Largest Retail Order of Fishing Equipment

The growth of Lee's Bait and Tackle Store from a small store with a small amount of fishing tackle and bait at 324 N. E. Thirteenth street and catering to the public that fished from the county causeway, to the largest exclusive shop of its kind in Florida has been encompassed during the past 16 years.

Courteous and honest dealing by the owner, Edwin J. Lee, has built up a reputation and a confidence among sportsmen who required the right kind of tackle to stand the test of the fish they have longed to catch. This confidence has resulted in the owner selling the largest retail order of fishing tackle ever sold by any similar store, when a Harvard University expedition on its way to the Galapagos Islands, purchased outfits costing $6,000. Another record of the store is retailing more than $100,000 worth of merchandise.
