STAFF ANALYSIS

The subject 4-story Non-Contributing building was constructed in 1964. In early 2022, a concrete restoration permit was issued (BC2116805) and during the course of construction, the cast concrete railings were removed in order to repair the balcony structures. During the removal, it was noted that the railings were spalling and had no structural connection to the building, merely resting on a layer of mortar. Based upon photos of the previously existing precast railing panels, staff can confirm that a significant number of railings did appear to be in poor condition. Due to the deterioration of the existing railings, the applicant applied for a building permit (BC2220004) for the replacement of the original railings with new aluminum vertical picket railings. Subsequently, the applicant was informed by staff that the proposed railing replacement requires the review and approval of the Historic Preservation Board.

Staff has met with the architect to discuss railing replacement options and was informed that the vertical aluminum picket railings had already been purchased by the contractor and were partially installed. Staff would note that buildings of this period routinely used either cast concrete or metal picket railings or a combination thereof for both for balconies and exterior circulation. As such, staff has no objection to the use of the vertical pickets. Staff would, however, recommend that the railing design along Euclid Avenue be further developed in a manner that is more consistent with the character and quality of the original railing and surrounding architecture. This may include decorative applique or other options as identified in the City's MiMo Design Guidelines. Staff is confident that the new railings can be retrofitted in a manner consistent with the Guidelines and that the final details can be addressed administratively and recommends approval of the application.

RECOMMENDATION

In view of the foregoing analysis, staff recommends that the request for a Certificate of Appropriateness be approved, subject to the conditions enumerated in the attached draft Order.
